Having declined appointing Agents, and every arrangement being made for the transaction of business under his personal superintendence, G. J. French does not hold himself responsible for the execution of orders, unless addressed to him at Bolton.

1st May, 1851.

Terms of Payment.

Nett cash, immediately after receipt of parcel; and, as the prices charged have direct reference to this mode of payment, attention to the terms is most respectfully but earnestly requested.

Mode of Payment.

If the sum be under five pounds, an order may be procured at any post-office upon the Postmaster of Bolton, in favour of Gilbert James French.

If above five pounds, a cheque on any Banker in London or the country, may be remitted by post.

Or the amount may be paid through any Banker to Messrs. Jones, Loyd, and Co., London, to credit of G. J. French's account with Messrs. Hardcastle, Cross, and Co., Bankers, Bolton.

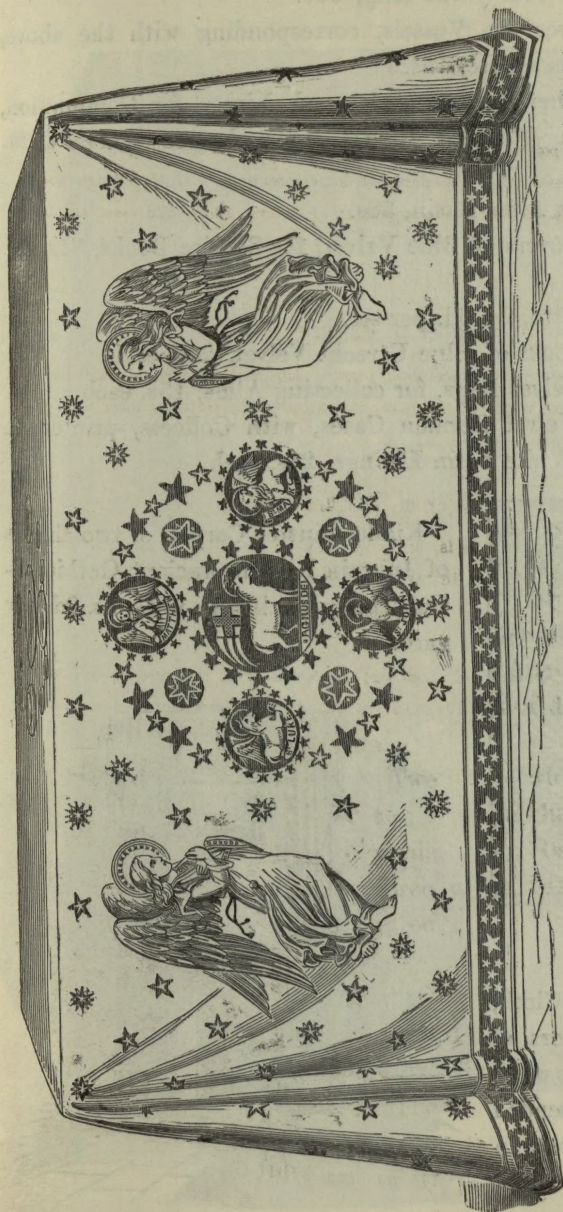

If notes be remitted, it is requested that they be sent in halves by separate posts, or in separate letters.

Parcels delivered in London

every day, free of charge, and forwarded thence, as may be ordered.

“Solemn Duties of Public Service to be done unto GOD must have their places set and prepared in such sort as becometh actions of that regard.”

Hooker.

“If a man's private house wherein he dwelleth be decayed, he will never cease till it be restored up again, how much more then ought the HOUSE OF GOD,
which we commonly call the CHURCH, to be sufficiently repaired in all places, and to be honourably adorned and garnished, and to be kept clean and sweet, to the comfort of the people that shall resort thereto?”

Homily for repairing and keeping clean of Churches.
